Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

(1) MATERIAL CHANGES IN CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL CONDITION:

The Company's liquidity increased during the first nine months of 1996 as compared to the position at December 31, 1995.

Working capital increased from $303.3 million at the end of last year to $466.5 million at September 30, 1996. The $163.2 million increase (which includes $112.1 million from the sale of businesses) represents positive cash flow over and above dividends of $53.3 million and the $90 million paid for acquisitions during this nine month period.

At September 30, 1996, net debt (defined as long-term debt plus current maturities on long-term debt plus notes payable less cash and equivalents and marketable securities) of $386.8 million represented 21.5% of total capital. This compares with 30% at December 31, 1995.

(2) MATERIAL CHANGES IN RESULTS OF OPERATIONS:

The Company earned $1.27 per share in its third quarter ending September 30, versus the $.63 earned in the third quarter of 1995. Sales gained 8% to $1.0 billion. Included in this year's quarterly profit results were a gain of $.44 per share from the sale of two businesses and $.09 per share of favorable tax and investment income adjustments, as described below.

Two companies were sold in the quarter -- Dieterich Standard (part of Dover Industries) and Measurement Systems (part of Dover Technologies). Dover realized a gain on these divestitures of $75.1 million, equivalent to $.44 per share. Selling good businesses is not something that Dover does often, but in each case synergy with the new corporate owner and an attractive valuation made the divestiture advantageous to all parties. Together with the first quarter sale of leasing company assets, gross proceeds from all three sales have been $112 million.

The bulk of these proceeds, after providing for tax payments, were used in the third quarter to repurchase 1.4 million Dover shares at an average price of $43.70 per share.

Additionally, in the third quarter Dover companies made two "add-on" acquisitions - KVG (Germany) by Quadrant (part of Dover Technologies) and Realcold (Texas), by Wittemann (part of Dover Resources). The combined investment was about $23 million, bringing acquisition investment for the nine months to $90 million, all for "add-on" transactions. KVG is a maker of high frequency crystals and oscillators and will expand Quadrant's leading position in this world-wide market. Realcold makes merchant CO2 and refrigeration systems and has a particularly strong position in Asia. They have worked previously with Wittemann on selected projects.

Dover's third quarter effective tax rate of 31.7% was unusually low because the tax basis of the MSI assets sold was higher than the book basis; plus two tax reductions worth $6.4 million ($.06 per share) for settlement of a foreign tax dispute and from the resumption of recognizing US research & development tax credits. Corporate/net interest expense was also below normal due to a $5.6 million, or $.03 per share, favorable investment gain in a self insured portion of Dover's casualty insurance program.

Dover Technologies:

Dover Technologies' sales and profits were 13% ahead of last year. Strong earnings growth at Imaje - not owned until the end of last year's third quarter - more than offset continuing unfavorable earnings comparisons at Universal. Most other DTI companies showed gains, with Quadrant almost doubling its profits due to the acquisition and successful move of a business purchased last year. Imaje improved sales in the U.S. and Asia, offsetting weakness in Europe, and further improved its already strong margins. Universal's shipments dropped 17% from last year with a larger decline in profits, but were at a level consistent with this year's earlier results. Book-to-bill ratio at Universal was 0.89 as orders followed their normal seasonal pattern - declining in July and August and rebounding in September. Orders are expected to improve in the fourth quarter, but no major recovery in this market is anticipated until late 1997. Technologies' overall book-to-bill in the third quarter was 0.90 which will make it difficult, though still possible, for this segment to exceed last year's profits in the fourth quarter.

Dover Industries:

Dover Industries' profits fell 7% in the quarter on a 5% sales gain. Declines at Heil Trailer, Marathon, Groen, and Davenport, together with the loss of earnings from Dieterich Standard (sold July 1) were not fully offset by double-digit profit gains at Rotary Lift, Chief, DovaTech and Randell. These mixed results left quarterly profits below the rate of the first half, as anticipated. Bookings were 16% higher than last year, but slightly below shipments, with the gain over prior year due to recovery in Heil Trailers' business and strength at Rotary. Present trends suggest that Industries' profits may fall short of prior year in the fourth quarter of this year, but will show a gain for the year as a whole.

Dover Diversified:

Dover Diversified reported a slight decline in profits, but last year included a $9.5 million profit on a contract settlement. Excluding this item, profits rose 42% on a sales gain of only 4%. The margin improvement was due to Hill Phoenix and A-C Compressor whose profit improvement programs were successful in raising combined profit to over $5 million versus breakeven last year. Strong profit gains continued at Belvac and at Sargent Controls while Mark Andy continued to struggle with a weak market and the high initial costs of several new systems and product development programs. Diversified bookings were slightly higher than prior year with a book-to-bill of 0.90. Backlog at September 30 was 21% below prior year almost entirely due to Belvac whose orders remained at a low level. Profit levels at Diversified in the fourth quarter are expected to continue approximately at third quarter levels, but with the share represented by Belvac shrinking as its shipments continue to decline.

Dover Resources:

Profits at Dover Resources advanced 18% in the quarter on a 15% sales gain. Twelve of their 16 individual businesses achieved profit growth with very large improvement at Blackmer, Stark and Petro Vend - all of whom had weaker quarters in 1995. Increased activity in oil drilling allowed the three companies serving this market to improve profits almost 50% on a 22% sales gain. However, they continued to represent only about 15% of Resource's total operating income. Bookings trailed sales in the quarter by 4% but were 10% over last year and consistent with first half trends. Backlog is 6% below the one-year-ago level despite good increases at Norris Sucker Rod, Wittemann, and Petro Vend. The previously reported order/shipment imbalance at Midland continued and its reduced backlog accounts for all of the drops in the Dover Resource's total.

Dover Elevator:

Dover Elevator International had its best quarter results since the industry recession hit in late 1990. Profits of $25.1 million represented an 11.6% margin, exceeding expectations. Last year's quarter included a $15 million charge to close a Canadian plant. Adjusting for this, operating profits rose 48% on a 4% sales increase. Dover Elevator undertook a major management and cost restructuring in the second half of 1995. This year's higher profits reflect reductions in salaried staff, improved field operating efficiency, more careful quoting in the mid and high-rise markets, and a renewed focus (manufacturing and marketing) on the low-rise segment, which is Dover's traditional area of strength. The low-rise market has shown good growth in the past three years in contrast to the still severely depressed mid and high-rise segments of the new elevator business. Elevator bookings were slightly below last year for the quarter but new elevator backlog has risen 9% this year to a level 5% above one-year-ago. Dover Elevator does not expect to match its third quarter result in the fourth quarter but will probably at least equal the $18.5 million operating result of last year (before the $16.9 million of write-offs included in last year's fourth quarter).

Outlook:

Dover expects full year results, excluding the third quarter gain on divestitures, to set a record with an increase in EPS of approximately 20%.
